- 1 Include the course in different local activities
 - * Incorporate the course in other events: Start your workshop, meeting, or seminar with the 30-minute course to set the stage for discussion and learning.
 - Discussion starters after the course:
 Use the following questions to spark insightful conversations
 - What is the role of civil society in sustainable development
 - What sustainability initiatives exist today?
 - How can we increase sustainability locally involving civil society?
 - Are there specific local or regional aspects to consider? What sustainability aspect is most important in our region or municipality?

- 2. Challenges and competitions
- Create a competition: Organise a competition between different classes in a school, association or company. Who comes up with the most ideas in the discussion section? The highest number of participants?
- ❖Incentives: Announce the competition with incentives such as prizes, diplomas, or certificates to motivate participation.
